SPS CAPACITY BUILDING IN AFRICA TO MITIGATE THE HARMFUL EFFECT OF PESTICIDE RESIDUES IN COCOA AND TO MAINTAIN MARKET ACCESS

TERMS OF REFERENCE OF THE IN-COUNTRY EVALUATION MISSION

From 13 to 29 May 2012

April 2012.
BACKGROUND

The Project for the SPS capacity building in Africa to mitigate the harmful effect of pesticide residues in cocoa and to maintain market access (Africa Cocoa SPS Project) includes the five major cocoa producing countries in Africa (Cameroon, Côte d'Ivoire, Ghana, Nigeria and Togo). The main objective of the project is to maintain the access of African cocoa to the international market, by strengthening the capacities of stakeholders on sanitary and phytosanitary measures. This capacity building aims at producing good quality cocoa, complying with international standards on pesticide residues and other harmful substances. The project is under the overall supervision of the International Cocoa Organization (ICCO) and started in 2011, after the activity and funding review workshop held in Accra, Ghana (19 to 21 January 2011).

A Regional Workshop was held at Hotel Mont Febé in Yaoundé, Cameroon, from 7 to 10 June 2011. The workshop was jointly organized by ICCO, the Ministry of Agriculture and the Ministry of Commerce of Cameroon, with financial support from the Standards and Trade Development Facility (STDF), EDES/COLEACP, CropLife Africa Middle East and UNIDO.

The Yaoundé workshop was organized to formally launch the Africa Cocoa SPS project and to sensitize the authorities of the participating countries on SPS standards and regulations in major cocoa importing countries such as the European Union (EU), the United States of America (USA) and Japan. The workshop reviewed the constraints faced by stakeholders in cocoa value chain in cocoa producing countries in Africa, with regard to compliance with international SPS standards.

During the regional workshop, a detailed timeframe for the implementation of project activities was developed.

However, it as been noted that several activities are lagging behind schedule and that difficulties have been encountered during implementation. A mission for monitoring and evaluating the activities carried out in each country is thus necessary to assess the overall level of project implementation.

These terms of reference state the objectives, expected outcomes and methodology for a mission which will be carried out in participating countries, from 13 to 29 May 2012.
